Client and Coaching Policies

This is my super official, super formal privacy, cancellation and coaching policies. You can tell how official it is because it has my letterhead on top. See? Official.

Anyone who works with me must read and agree to the policies outlined below in order to ensure our time together is powerful, mutually respectful, and effective to making your own brand of magic. Ready for this?

Our Privacy Matters

Our coaching time together is a safe and sacred space and will always be held as such.

Anyone who works with me is treated with the utmost care and respect. This means you can have total confidence that your privacy throughout all our communications will be maintained. Anything that you share with me is kept completely confidential unless you give me permission to share it (anonymously or not - that would be up to you) as an anecdotal story for the benefit of someone else. Likewise the same privacy and confidentiality should be held by you in terms of the specific work we do together and should not be shared publicly with others.

Yes, I Have a Cancellation Policy

My time is valuable, as is yours, and is to always be treated as such by both parties.

Cancelled appointments require a minimum of 12 hours notice or are subject to your session fee not being refunded. Likewise, any appointments paid in advance are not refunded if you, as a client, choose not to continue coaching for any reason. There is no refund on Organic Tribe coaching.

Medical Advice, This is Not

You are a wise and wonderful person; only you can make the best choice for you.

My coaching and my writing are not meant to be a substitute for your own inner guidance, nor is it medical, psychological or professional advice or meant to take the place of such. In my coaching, I may offer my perspective - my own Organic Wisdom - as well as tools and insight, but it is always up to you to filter that through your own Organic Wisdom.

It's Up To You, Babe

I can offer all the tools in the world, but I can't guarantee what you'll do with them.

I can offer you no guarantees on how this process will work for you. It, and what you do with it, is completely up to you. What this means is that our time together will only be a benefit to you if you commit yourself to it, make space for it in your life, use your own innate judgment and keep a very open line of communication with me during it, so we can make any necessary adjustments or changes necessary. Remember, I can't support you unless you help me support you.

Let's Make Magic, and All That Jazz!

There you have it. The ins and outs of all the technical stuff. Keep in mind this may change or be added to without notice. That means it's up to you to stay up-to-date. Now let's get moving with the magic-making, shall we?

Much love,

Tara Wagner
